

Truman Says
Yankees Want
Only Peace--
Not Territory

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Potsdam, July 20 (AP)—President Truman, speaking at a symbolic flag-raising over conquered Berlin, said today the United States wanted not one piece of territory, but "peace and prosperity for the world as a whole."

The speech had great significance against its background of the Big Three conference, where the President is joining Britain and Russia in helping to settle European boundary and other problems.

Historic Flag

The Stars and Stripes raised over the United States group council headquarters—in the former headquarters of Germany's air defense—was the flag that flew over the capitol in Washington the day the United States entered the war against the Axis. It flew over Algiers when that city was Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters and over Rome when the first Axis capital was captured. It is destined to be raised over Tokyo.

"Let's not forget that we are fighting for peace and for the welfare of mankind," Mr. Truman told the troops lined up for the ceremony. "We are not fighting for conquest."

"There is not one piece of territory or one thing of a monetary nature that we want out of this war. We want peace and prosperity for the world as a whole. We want to see the time come when we can do the things in peace that we have been able to in war. If we can put this tremendous machine of ours, which has made this victory possible, to work for peace we could look forward to the greatest age in the history of mankind."

Review Division

Mr. Truman told the soldiers, picked infantrymen from the Second Armored Division, that they had "proved conclusively that a free people can look after the affairs of the world." The President, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Gen. Eisenhower and Patton reviewed the division.

The President spoke after Vice Admiral Emory S. Land, chief of the U. S. Maritime commission and war shipping administration, arrived with his staff in response to a special request from President Truman.

Peace Is Impartial

The President spoke extemporaneously for two minutes. Gen. Omar Bradley, new Veterans Administrator who also had been summoned here for a conference, accompanied him to the site from the "little White House" in Potsdam. Stimson, Eisenhower, Patton and Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, American member of the Berlin Commandant, were in the President's party. Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, head of the U. S. Group Council, received Mr. Truman.

The President's brief message was interpreted by some of his listeners as meaning the United States insisted that the peace and welfare of the average man were more important than territorial disputes and boundaries.

The ceremony took place in the cobblestoned central court of what had been the German aircraft command for Middle Germany. All Germans had been cleared from the area before the President arrived. He drove up in his open car, accompanied by military and naval aides and a small secret service detail.

Eager To Return

Immediately after the flag-raising the President sped back into Potsdam to resume his deliberations with Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill—discussions in which possible Russian aid in the war against Japan is believed to be playing an important part.

The President was described as eager to return to Washington as soon as possible after the conference here closes. He has all but abandoned plans for even a brief visit to London.

He is keeping in close touch with Congressional considerations of the United Nations Charter and Bretton Woods proposals, and the "little White House" map room is receiving hourly reports on the Pacific war.

COUNTY DAIRY
HERD TESTING
RECORD FINEST
SINCE FOUNDING

Gathered for a picnic with their families this afternoon at Sheffer's park along the Biglerville road, members of the Adams County Dairy Herd Improvement association heard reports covering the organization's 18th year ending June 30 that disclosed the largest membership and largest number of cows under test in the history of the organization.

The figures were compiled by I. O. Sidelman, of State College, who finished his compilation of the monthly reports of Miss Teresa Murren, association tester, at the court house while the dairymen assembled at the park. He gave his report at the business meeting in session this afternoon.

Mr. Sidelman's report shows that during the year just ended there was an average of 382.65 cows under test in the 15 herds of members throughout the year. Two other herds were in the association for part of the year.

Tripled In 10 Years
The closest approach to that figure was in the year ending June 30, 1944, when the average number of cows was 341.68 and is more than triple the figure for 10 years ago when only 111 animals were under test.

The annual report also disclosed marked improvement over last year in the average amount of milk produced. A year ago the average cow in the association gave 7,758 pounds of milk. Today's report showed each animal averaged 8,117 in the last year. Butterfat yield jumped from 301.9 pounds per cow to 312.9 pounds.

Another speaker for this afternoon's session is C. R. Gearhart, dairy extension specialist from State College in charge of dairy herd improvement work. County Agent M. T. Hartman attended the meeting and spoke to the group who ate their meal at the park, held their regular meeting in the afternoon and left the park in time to get home to take care of their dairy herds this evening.

Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin R. 2, is president; B. J. Griffie, York Springs, vice president; Mrs. Rose Murren, Brantown, secretary-treasurer; John W. Lucabaugh, Hanover R. D., and Norman Kink, York Springs R. D., directors, and Miss Murren is the tester.

SLASH SCHOOL
TAX IN MT. JOY

Announcing the first school tax cut in Mt. Joy township in at least 10 years, members of the township board of school directors disclosed today that the 1945 tax rate will be 15 mills instead of the 18-mill rate that has been in force for the last five years.

Ten years ago the rate was 10 mills but it climbed steadily to the 18-mill level in 1940 where it had remained. A year ago the school district completed paying off its debts, and now the financial report shows a balance available for the 1945-46 school year of $8,688.

The board also announced that its account with the Hoffman orphanage is in preparation for full settlement as of July 1.

A committee of township directors and teachers met Tuesday evening in the office of the county superintendent of schools to select for recommendation to the entire board English workbooks, science readers, current events and unit textbooks for remedial reading.

The board is considering a pre-school clinic for pupils who expect to enter the first grade in September.

Major Gilbert Has Broken Bone In Back

Major Levi Gilbert, former superintendent of the Altoona schools and now serving in Germany with a European Civil Affairs detachment, is confined to a field hospital at Mannheim, Germany, with a broken bone in his back.

In a letter to his niece, Miss Frances Gilbert, Taneytown road, the major said he had been "playing leap frog with a truck and jumped at the wrong time." He said that although he is in a cast from chin to hips the injury is not serious.

Major Gilbert, who formerly taught school in Biglerville, is a brother of J. W. Gilbert, Chambersburg street dry cleaner. The officer has a son in the Navy and is a veteran of the first World War.

Weather Forecast

Continued cloudy and humid. Slightly warmer with occasional showers, tonight and Saturday afternoon.

Chaplain Home

Chaplain (Major) George H. Berkheimer, only countian who has served both as an infantry officer and as a chaplain in this war, is home on a 30-day leave after nearly three and a half years of military service, most of it in the Pacific theater. Peace-time pastor of the Arendtsville Lutheran charge, he served in Australia, New Guinea, Netherlands East Indies, the Solomons and the Philippines.

NOMINATIONS

Redding received the Democratic nominations for assessor and tax collector in Cumberland township.

Countians who were nominated for various offices often by one or two votes—have until next Tuesday to withdraw.

The others who withdrew are: Allen A. Weikert who was given the Democratic nomination for tax collector in Highland township; Roy S. Foulk, Democrat, for justice of the peace in Mt. FIREMEN CALL
OFF '45 MEET

The officers and members of the executive committee of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania meeting in special session Thursday in the Hotel Yorktown, York, decided to postpone the 1945 state convention scheduled to be held in York the first week in October.

The officers and committee members decided that the Association give its full support to the government in helping to bring a quick end to the war and abide by the ruling of the Office of Defense Transportation which restricts wartime travel in holding conventions.

This was the first time since World War I and the second time since the Association was formed in 1881 that a state convention of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania has been postponed.

It was unanimously agreed that the next state convention be held at York the first week in October 1946. Tentative plans for the 1946 convention were outlined by the state officers and members of the executive committee on Thursday.

The state convention of the Firemen's Association of Pennsylvania each year attracts thousands of firemen, auxiliary members and their families to the host city.

To Check On Auto
Stamps Next Week

Agents of the Philadelphia district of the Bureau of Internal Revenue will begin next Monday a checkup of automobiles in York and Adams counties to enforce the $5 use tax law, it has been announced. The agents will check first in York county, later moving into Adams.

The new use tax stamp, obtainable at the post office, became requisite for lawful operation of an automobile July 1. A special period of grace to permit all to conform with the law without penalty ended July 10.

FUEL OIL USERS
URGED TO ORDER
WINTER SUPPLY

Householders who heat their homes with fuel oil were urged today by the OPA to prepare now for winter by having their storage tanks filled at once.

"Every tank must be filled this summer to avert suffering because the civilian fuel oil situation will be even more critical this winter than last year," the OPA said.

"Dealers report that orders are beginning to be received but not in sufficient volume to get all householders' storage tanks filled within the next few weeks."

"Those who delay are doing themselves and their neighbors a disservice. Every ration holder has a personal responsibility in this matter and can do a lot to assure that the nation's limited civilian fuel oil supply will be ready for use when needed."

Cite Two Reasons

"Two factors make it most imperative that every consumer fill his tanks now:

"First, fuel oil demands of the Pacific war are sky-rocketing daily and will reach a peak about the time civilian heating demands are greatest. It is hoped that the civilian fuel oil supply will equal last year's short supply but the Petroleum Administration for war has warned repeatedly that it is going to be most difficult to meet both war and minimum civilian needs."

"Second, transportation facilities are going to be tighter this winter than ever before so that any person who doesn't order fuel oil now may be unable to get it later when he needs it."

"Most people in the area have mailed applications to their War Price and Rationing Boards and have, or soon will get, ration coupons for the 1945-46 heating season. The few who have not returned their applications should do so immediately. Those who have ration coupons should have all household tanks filled at once so that suppliers and dealers can refill their tanks while transportation is still available."

First "Period" coupons became valid June 1 for ten gallons per unit.

Plot Against
Hitler Aimed
To Keep High
Command Safe

By GEORGE TUCKER
Frankfurt on the Main, July 20 (AP)—Officers of the G-2 (intelligence) division of United States Forces in the European Theater (USFET) are convinced that one primary purpose of the July 20 bomb attempt on Adolf Hitler's life was to leave the German general staff intact.

In their judgement the plotters, who made their bid for power just a year ago today, hoped after removing the Fuehrer to negotiate a peace with the Allies that would perpetuate the general staff, at least leave it to prepare for the next war.

Members of G-2 who have examined hundreds of official interrogation reports have fitted together the fantastic details of one of the significant plots of history—which backfired into wholesale executions of Wehrmacht officers, altered the army's entire command and accelerated the rush of the Reich toward its final defeat.

General Staff Aroused

Capt. LeRoy Vogel, San Antonio, Texas, said: "After the disgrace of Stalingrad the general staff realized that if anything at all was to be saved for the future, Hitler would have to go and some sort of peace would have to be negotiated while the Russians were still outside the Reich's borders. So plans for his assassination were put in motion."

By any comparison this plot was one of the sizzlers of the Nazi regime.

Its code word was "Valkyrie," after the old Norse myth of Odin's handmaidens who selected the warriors to be killed in battle.

As the plot expanded it spilled out of the ranks of the Wehrmacht clique into the civil service, and included many executives high in public life but opposed to Hitler. Prominent among these were Count Von Helldorf, police chief of Berlin, and Dr. Goerdeler, former mayor of Leipzig.

3 Things Upset Plot
"It was a perfect plan, seemingly foolproof," said Lt. Ernest Miller, of Astoria, L. I., N. Y. "It failed because of three trivial little incidents that could not be foreseen."

Has Bible Of Slain Countian

A former member of the Merchant Marine, now a Navy guard at Bremerton, Wash., has in his possession a Bible or testament which, he writes, belonged to a boy from near Gettysburg who was killed on the Anzio beach-head early in 1944. The boy's home address, he says was Gettysburg R. 2 or R. 4.

The ex-mariner, who before the war was a state policeman in Pennsylvania, has forgotten the name of the boy but is seeking to locate the family so that the Bible may be returned. The writer says he "knows the facts" about the serviceman's death.

He also wrote that shortly before his death the Gettysburg man underscored a passage in II Timothy and folded the corner of the page over to mark the place.

The letter of inquiry was addressed to the pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church and, in the absence of the local pastor, was delivered to John K. Lott, clerk of the church Session. Those having information as to a countian who was killed on Anzio are urged to communicate with Mr. Lott.

50 Miles Of
China Coast
Is Prepared
For Invasion

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, July 20 (AP)—A 50-mile stretch of the South China coast is firmly in Chinese hands and open for a sea-borne invasion of the continent, the Chinese high command announced today.

Chinese forces, striking eastward along the Kwangtung province coastal highway from the town of Tinpak, which they recently took and thereby severed Japanese communications between Canton and Hainan Island, reached the vicinity of the road junction city of Yeung-kong, 50 miles from Tinpak and 125 miles southwest of Canton.

A Chinese army spokesman, Maj. Gen. Kuo Chi-chik, said the Japanese had moved 100,000 troops from Hunan province to the coast of Shantung in the last four weeks, anticipating an American landing.

No Troop Movements

He estimated that 1,000,000 Japanese combat troops were in China and Manchuria plus an equal number of auxiliaries. He said Japanese sea traffic between the islands and China had been interrupted and that no troops had been moved recently in either direction. Yeung-kong is a little more than 600 miles northwest of Uzon.

This cleared a stretch, formerly held firmly by the enemy, where the Japanese announced they feared an American invasion. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was quoted in a Yank magazine dispatch made public yesterday, however, as saying in effect that an invasion of the continent would be unnecessary, that the enemy could be subdued by Chinese ground forces aided by American air power.

In Kwangsi province Chinese forces which swung out in a wide arc eastward from recently recaptured Luochow have captured the important highway junction of Laipo and have turned north toward Kweilin, adding to the number of Chinese troops closing in on that largest of former U. S. 14th air force bases.

HINT EXCHANGE OF WAINWRIGHT
FOR DIPLOMAT

Bedford, Pa., July 20 (AP)—Central Pennsylvanians, who had protested quartering of 193 Japanese diplomats in the Bedford Springs hotel, were told by state department officials last night that the lives of Americans in Japan may depend on the treatment we give the Jap statesmen here.

Some 150 civic leaders from Bedford and surrounding counties gathered on invitation of the state department and heard John E. Puerlitz, special assistant director of Public Affairs, Washington, declare:

"Japanese are holding some 12,000 to 14,000 U. S. civilians. These Jap diplomats will be treated as prisoners, not as guests. They will have the same ration points for food as Americans have."

Puerlitz said the Bedford Springs hotel was chosen as it was the only suitable unoccupied major hotel near Washington.

No "Coddling"

Veterans' groups had been among those which protested lodging the Japs in the hotel. But N. W. McClosky of Harrisburg, department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, told the meeting:

"I am in favor of bringing the Japs here."

He had learned, he said, there would be no "coddling" of the prisoners.

"They won't have any golf or swimming here," he declared. "But they must be treated right as we hope to exchange them for Americans—perhaps even for Gen. Wainwright himself."

Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright was taken prisoner when American troops were forced through starvation and disease to surrender to the Japs on Bataan.

Guam, July 20 (AP)—More than 600 Superfortresses in record strength set conflagrations in five Japanese industrial centers with 4,000 tons of incendiary bombs today as Okinawa-based tactical Air Forces made the war's heaviest raid on Shanghai and Thunderbolt fighter bombers sealed off rail transport to the Japanese city of Kagoshima.

The Superfortresses set Fukui, Hitachi, Choshi and Okazaki aflame and struck the Nippon oil refinery at Amagasaki a heavy blow in raids before dawn.

Results Good to Excellent

The weather forced instrument bombing at all targets except Fukui, but all results were declared to be good to excellent. Two B-29's were lost; five crewmen from one ship were rescued.

The Japanese Domei agency admitted some damage from the raids.

Meanwhile Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced from Manila that more than 300 tactical medium, heavy and attack bombers with fighter escort, all from Okinawa, crossed the East China sea and hurled more than 290 tons of bombs on Kiangwan airdrome, just north of Shanghai.

He served 21 months overseas and has to his credit 115 service points.

Need War Material

S. Sgt. Smith stated "Germany has been forced to an unconditional surrender. Even now it is reported the Japs are hoping they might get peace terms. Let us give them terms, short terms, two words, unconditional surrender. But, to stick these terms down their throats completely and as quickly as possible our fighting forces in the Pacific must have the guns, planes, tanks, ships, and everything else they need to finish this long, tough fight."

"I want to congratulate the WMC-USES, truly soldiers of the home-front, for the fine job you and your fellow employees have done and are continuing to do in staffing our war plants."

"Do not relax in your efforts until the final gun is fired. We need you and I am sure we can sincerely count on each and every one of you to do a real job. When this thing is all over and you have sincerely executed your orders to the best of your ability, then you will have the right to be proud of the part you played on our team—America."

CHINESE ASK HANGING FOR JAP MIKADO

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Chungking National Herald, which speaks for the Chinese Foreign office, has come out in support of the proposal by the people's political council that the Allies hang Emperor Hirohito of Japan as a war criminal.

"Let him be hanged with the rest of the gang," exclaims the newspaper.

Well, it's easy to understand this feeling, after all that China has suffered at the hands of her barbaric neighbors. And the Chinese aren't the only people who have a long account to settle with the Japs. However, one question whether we should be wise to hang the Mikado and, that being so, whether it is discreet to advocate it in advance of an Allied decision. Such a proposal, coming from Chungking, can only have the effect of making the Japanese fight harder and longer at this critical juncture.

Used As Tool

The argument for executing the Mikado is that Japanese militarism is built about him as God-Emperor. It's said, and rightly, that it is because his subjects regard him as divine that they fight so frantically for him.

However, it's one thing to say Hirohito is the symbol about which the people rally, and quite another to credit him with being the real head of the government or of the militaristic machine. There's some doubt whether he knows exactly what it's all about. In any event, he is being used as a tool by the militarists.

It can be argued, of course, that a religion like Shinto (the way of the Gods), which lends itself to the machinations of the war-lords, is better smashed. Still, it is fairly obvious that if we did hang the Emperor and did try to destroy the religion, we should be creating chaos in Japan, and therefore should be undertaking a dangerous experiment.

Course of War

For this reason—and not because of any regard for Hirohito or his religion—many observers feel that the Allies should proceed circumspectly. At any rate, before advertising the hanging they should have made up their minds definitely that they are going to carry it out, and risk prolonging the war. Here it should be added—and this is important, I believe—that decision not to hang the Emperor wouldn't preclude forcing him to give up his throne to a more suitable incumbent.

Word from Potsdam is that President Truman reportedly is trying to clear the way for concentration of the Big Three on the war against Japan, and observers are watching intently to see what steps the trio may take to expedite unconditional surrender. Mr. Truman is said to maintain that the saving of American lives is of paramount importance to the American government. So one would think that the question of unconditional surrender would take precedence over the hanging of the uncaught Mikado.

Plot Against

arrived on schedule at his headquarters at Rastenburg, East Prussia. Photographs taken of his arrival show him surrounded by high-ranking officers and shaking hands with his doctor.

After the usual pleasantries they entered buildings and headed for the war room, where routine briefing on the military situation was to be held. But at the last moment, for some unexplained reason, the regular briefing room was abandoned for a larger one upstairs. This was the first definite break against the plotters.

Bomb In Briefcase

A few minutes later Col. Von Stauffenberg of the general staff came in. He carried a time-bomb in his briefcase. The fact that he was permitted to approach Hitler with briefcase in hand distinguished him as an officer with wide privileges.

The briefing officer mentioned a place name that was unfamiliar to Hitler, and Hitler got up and walked across the room to have a closer look at the maps. This move, quite by chance, placed a massive oak desk between Hitler and Von Stauffenberg's briefcase.

As Hitler stood squinting at the map a terrific explosion blazed through the room, killing six officers and maiming the others. Hitler himself was thrown against the wall and partially stunned.

The conspirators, believing they had won, quickly flashed word that Hitler was dead.

Killed By SS.

In Paris, Gen. Stuepnagel struck swiftly, shifting the entire SS garrison and making wholesale arrests of Wehrmacht officers of whose sympathies he was not sure.

Von Stauffenberg flew to Berlin. He went directly to his office, summoned his secretary and was dictating a new list of Nazi officials to be shot when Himmler's SS closed in on him and told him the plot had failed.

"They took Stauffenberg to 11-13 Bendestrasse, right in the heart of Berlin, court-martialed him with three other officers, and all four were sentenced to be shot," said T-3 Walter Hasenclever, Andover, Mass. "They were executed a few minutes after midnight by a firing squad composed of five non-commissioned officers. Two hours later their bodies were buried in St. Matthew's cemetery."

15,000 RESUME WORK, 50,000 OTHERS ARE OUT

(By The Associated Press)

Labor disputes in five industries were ended today, enabling more than 15,000 employees to go back to their jobs, but work stoppages across the nation kept an additional 50,000 idle.

As old controversies were settled, at least temporarily, new ones broke out to show only little gains in the total number of workers affected by the stoppages during the last 24 hours.

A three-day walkout over a contract dispute at the Pennsylvania shipyards in Beaumont, Tex., enabled 8,000 employees to return to work, while in Oakland, Calif., a jurisdictional dispute which tied up repair of 21 government ships ended as 3,000 AFL craftsmen obeyed a National War Labor Board back-to-work directive.

Other Disputes

The five-day work stoppage at the Joseph S. Finch and Company distillery in Schenley, Pa., ended last night and 2,200 workers were to return to their jobs. In South Bend, Ind., CIO United Automobile Workers voted to go back to their jobs Monday at the Torrington company, to end a walkout that had tied up production of bearings since June 11. The fifth stoppage ended was at the Stokes Rubber company in Trenton, N. J., where about 700 strikers voted to go back to work today.

New trouble along the labor front was reported from Cleveland and St. Louis. In the former city a walkout of open hearth furnace pit workers at the Republic Steel corporation plant forced shutdown of three furnaces and was expected to close the remaining six. A company spokesman said the resulting steel shortage was expected to affect the company's rolling mills and idle some 4,000 employees. A CIO United Steelworkers spokesman said the walkout, which he asserted did not have union sanction, stemmed from employees' demands for additional men in the pit crews.

In St. Louis, a strike of 1,500 employees of three packing plants threatened to cut sharply into the already reduced week-end meat supplies.

BULLETINS

Philadelphia, July 20 (AP)—A double-check system on ration stamp accounts under which food handlers dealing in counterfeit stamps will be "forced out of business" has been inaugurated by the OPA. Frank J. Loftus, OPA district director, said that the food dealers would be allotted stationary stamp inventories whereby they will have to surrender a genuine stamp every time a fake one turns up. When their inventories are exhausted, Loftus said, "they will be unable to trade."

Washington, July 20 (AP)—The United States Congress today became the first big power parliamentary body to approve the 44-nation Bretton Woods international monetary program. Final approval was by unanimous voice vote in the House after that body had accepted minor Senate amendments to the measure originally passed by the House. The action sends the legislation to President Truman for his signature.

Washington, July 20 (AP)—Congress passed the $5,700,000,000 tax relief bill today to help business revert from war to peace. The House agreed to a Senate amendment and sent the measure to the White House. Congressional leaders said the legislation will help small business accumulate a cash reserve for postwar operations.

Pittsburgh, July 20 (AP)—President Hiland G. Batcheller, of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation, said today that some time must elapse before civilian steel can reach its markets.

Washington, July 20 (AP)—Rationing of gas cooking and gas heating stoves will end July 31. Oil cooking, oil heating, combination oil-gas stoves and oil conversion burners for stoves will remain under rationing.

Denies "Scrap" Over Soap Flakes

There was a "run" on soap flakes at the A and P store on Baltimore street on Wednesday and the boxes sold at the rate of one every 10 seconds until the supply of about 250 boxes was exhausted at the end of 40 minutes.

Manager G. H. Brezler said the waiting line reached from the door to the soap chip section but denied the story that was current uptown today that two women had "scrapped" over the last box of chips. "That report was started as a joke here at the store but apparently somebody heard it and believed it," he said.

Buyers were limited to a single box of soap flakes and several customers who filled their arms were sent back by the cashier to unload all but one of the precious boxes.

HINTS EXCHANGE

said the Japs would be inclosed in a board stockade being built about the hotel and that they would have only about 75 yards of ground in which to move around at the rear of the hotel.

Look to Exchange

"I hope no talk will go back to Japan to make it tougher for our boys over there," Rhodes said. "Let's go along 100 per cent with the state department in holding the Jap prisoners here. We might get even eight or 10 Americans for one of these ambassadors; the Japanese look on them as Gods."

Brig. Gen. Leonard Boyd of Berkeley, Calif., who served 30 months with the 93rd Division in the Philippines, asserted that citizens "must forego spite work against these Japs in order to save American prisoners over there."

The Japanese already have said "yes" to the Swiss government, which has asked if exchanges will be made, said Albert E. Clattenburg, of the special war problem committee, Washington.

"This is the first time we've been able to talk exchange with them," said Clattenburg.

Probe By Swiss

He said it was the custom in all countries to "hold celebrities" in major hotels and that when the Swiss government sent agents here to investigate, the report they transmitted to Tokyo would have an effect on the treatment American prisoners would get in Japan.

Asked why a CCC camp could not be used, Clattenburg said: "The CCC camps have been abandoned. Doors and windows have been removed from the buildings. Lights and plumbing have been removed. They could not be used except at great expense."

He was asked why the Japs weren't taken anywhere else except to Bedford and answered: "That point is not in question. The government has decided to bring them here and will do so. We're only explaining why it is necessary to treat the prisoners properly."

Edward Linsky, department adjutant of the American Legion Harrisburg, said:

Held By Army

"If we can save the life of even one American by taking the Nips in this hotel and can get that American back home where he has a decent chance to live, then it will be worthwhile."

No information was given on the expected arrival date of the diplomats in Bedford. Some of them came into New York on a troopship last week and, at last reports, were still in custody of the army.

Truman, Sergeant Play For Big TWO

Potsdam, July 20 (AP)—President Truman played Beethoven's Minuet in G on the piano at the joint request of Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill as a musical climax to his state dinner last night.

The President sat down at the keyboard after an American sergeant, pianist Eugene List, had scored one of the strangest triumphs in musical history in winning two toasts from Stalin and a warm handshake from Churchill for his virtuosity.

List, known on the American concert stage, played a Tchaikovsky selection, Chopin's A Flat Polonaise and three preludes by the Leningrad composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

Stalin was delighted. He sprang up from his chair, walked over to the beaming pianist, shook his hands, drank a toast to his health and asked him to play more.

LAND ARRIVES IN POTSDAM FOR BIG THREE MEET

Potsdam, July 20 (AP)—Vice-Admiral Emory S. Land, chief of the U. S. Maritime Commission and the War Shipping Administration, has arrived with his staff in Potsdam in response to a special request from President Truman, it was disclosed today.

The shipping experts arrived late yesterday amid indications that post-war world shipping and the role of the United States greatest merchant fleet in history would play a large part in the discussions of the President, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Land attended the Roosevelt-Churchill Quebec discussions and furnished advice at later Big Three meetings. Before leaving Washington the President had directed the top shipping official to stand by, ready to join this conference.

It was disclosed also that Prime Minister Churchill dined alone Wednesday night with Premier Stalin at the little Kremlin. The conference lasted several hours. Only Stalin's and Churchill's interpreters were present at the dinner table during the private meeting, where obviously much of world importance was discussed.

Informal Truman

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden returned to work today and fulfilled all his regular appointments with Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov and U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes. Eden had been too ill last night to attend a state dinner tendered in a cordial atmosphere by President Truman at the garden-bowered little White House.

The absence of the Foreign Secretary had caused some concern here in Soviet and American compounds. Apparently, however, Eden was ready to plunge back into the task cut out for foreign secretaries, who under conference procedure reach generalized agreement on problems and pass them on to the Big Three for final decisions.

President Truman underlined the friendly, informal air of the dinner by wearing a plain brown suit. Premier Stalin wore his fawn-colored generalissimo's uniform of gabardine, decorated by a single star on the breast, and Prime Minister Churchill wore the light tan colonel's uniform of Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports—Dover, Sandwich, Hythe, Romney, Rye, Winchelsea and Hastings.

METZ TO TRY GOLF RETURN

St. Paul, Minn., July 20 (AP)—Dick Metz, the slim, dark-haired rancher from Arkansas City, Kans., starts out in the St. Paul Open Golf tournament today to determine whether he can come back to upper crust links rating after a long lay-off.

Metz laid away his clubs two years ago and went to work on his farm. He did not touch them until about two months ago when he decided to try out his game.

What he found led him to come here a week ago and start work. Every day he has been over the Keller layout, uncovering flaws and seeking to correct them.

After shooting a 78 and 74 on early practice rounds he worked his score down to a 67 over the par 72 course. Metz set the St. Paul open record in 1939 with a 270 for 72 holes.

As the field of more than 100 pros and amateurs started out this morning it was anybody's guess as to who would take the title and the major portion of the $7,500 war bond prize money. With Byron Nelson, Toledo, Ohio, winner of most of the top money this season, resting, most of the fans were picking Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., to win.

Utica Moves Into League Leadership

(By The Associated Press)
The Wilkes-Barre Barons, who are not too successful about holding the Eastern league top spot themselves, are doing an excellent job preventing any other team from staying ahead.

The Barons, who last week handed Albany four straight defeats to knock the Senators from first to fourth, dusted off Hartford 8-7 last night. The defeat pushed the idle Utica Blue Sox into the league lead. Scranton edged Albany 6-5 in 12 innings and Williamsport swept two from Binghamton, 3-1 and 7-1. The Utica-Elmira doubleheader was postponed because of rain.

At Williamsport, league President Thomas Richardson announced a 150 fine and 15-day suspension of Utica first baseman Turkey Tyson for his part in a flare-up in a Blue Sox-Williamsport game earlier in the week. Richardson also fined Rog Valdez, Grays catcher, $25 and suspended him for three days for his part in the incident.

Some Of Adams County's Younger Generation

SENATE OKAYS BRETTON WOODS BY 61-16 VOTE

Washington, July 20 (AP)—Bretton Woods of the way, a world-minded Senate prepared today to pump $2,800,000,000 into the export-import bank to finance postwar international trade.

Expected passage of legislation to increase the bank's lending authority would lift to $8,725,000,000 the commitments toward world reconstruction and stability the Senate has approved in clearing its decks for scheduled ratification next week of the United Nations Charter.

The major share of these funds, under legislation approved yesterday by a 61 to 16 vote, goes to the international bank and stabilization fund upon which 44 nations agreed at Bretton Woods, N. H., just a year ago.

Expect Changes
The Bretton Woods measure, fought to the last by a small group of Republicans, traveled back to the House for expected approval there of minor amendments.

It provides that the United States shall contribute $2,175,000,000 toward the bank's $9,100,000,000 for reconstruction and development loans. It would put up $2,750,000,000 of an $8,800,000,000 fund to support world currencies.

In contrast to the fight made against this proposal, the measure to boost the export-import bank's loan funds from $700,000,000 to $3,500,000,000 had clear sailing.

Senator Taft, (R-Ohio), who led the battle against the Bretton Woods bill called the export-import bank increase "sensible." It was reported unanimously by the banking committee in the form previously approved by the House and favorable Senate action will send it to President Truman for his signature.

Bucknell Gridders To Play 7 Games

Lewisburg, Pa., July 20 (AP)—Seven games are scheduled for Bucknell university's football team this fall, Athletic Director J. Elwood Ludwig announced. The schedule: Sept. 15, Scranton, home; Sept. 22, Villanova, home; Sept. 29, Cornell, away; Oct. 6, Pitt, away; Oct. 12, Temple (night), away; Oct. 20, Penn State, home; Oct. 27, Lafayette, away.

Bank Helps Sarge Find Lost Girl

Kansas City, Mo., July 20 (AP)—An overseas GI's attempt to get in touch with a girl named Elaine who has a funny little nose and used to work for you recently turned the Federal Reserve bank here into a date bureau—and the bank got results!

Sgt. Tommy Roberts met the girl in 1942, then lost track of her. He remembered—wrongly—that she had worked for the Federal Reserve bank.

The bank's personnel department took over, enlisting the aid of a local columnist, who published the Sarge's SOS.

Today a letter arrived at the bank from Miss Elaine Khouse, of Hutchinson, Kansas, the real girl in the case. The bank has sent her into a date bureau—and the bank got results!

Oakland, Calif., July 20 (AP)—No one had better tell six-year-old Jesse Lamar Tolliver, Jr., that story about Santa Claus and his arrival via chimney for awhile.

Young Tolliver was examining a chimney in a partially constructed house yesterday when he slipped and fell into it, dropping 14 feet. He was lodged in the fireplace flue for 20 minutes while firemen worked to rescue him.

STATE SPEEDS MOVE TO FREE TOLL BRIDGES

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—The commonwealth's drive to free toll bridges speeded up today with Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer ready to talk prices to owners or agents of four more of the 10 privately-owned spans.

Formal offers have been made for two bridges at Harrisburg and at Clark's Ferry but so far neither Shroyer nor the companies have disclosed what price tags state engineers put on the spans or results of negotiations.

The 1945 legislature appropriated $7,000,000 to free the bridges and authorized Shroyer, with the approval of Governor Martin, to buy any or all of them or take the matter to court if no agreements are reached.

Seeks Full Value
The public realizes that it is its money which is being spent for the bridges, and it wants the money well spent," Shroyer stated. "I intend to see to it that the state gets a dollar's worth of value for every dollar expended."

Conferences set for today were with representatives of the Minis-kill and new street bridges in Bethlehem, the Eighth street bridge in Allentown and the Sunbury bridge. Shroyer said agents of the Point Marion bridge are ready to meet with him next week.

Representatives of the People's Bridge company, owners of the Walnut street bridge in Harrisburg, and the Clark's Ferry bridge company conferred with Shroyer yesterday.

AUSSIES MAKE FIVE MILE GAIN WITHOUT FIGHT

By DEAN SCHEDLER
Manila, July 20 (AP)—Australian troops on Borneo thrust five miles to overrun the rich Sambodja oil fields and refinery without a fight.

They found only two Japanese defending the great field, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today. The field formerly produced 7,000,000 barrels of ready-to-use crude oil a year.

The Sambodja field is one of the three major pools in eastern Borneo feeding the ruined refinery district around Balikpapan. The attacking Australian 7th Division found great fires roaring through the field, indicating that the Japanese had followed the Dutch example of 1942 and scorched the oil soaked earth as they left.

On Big Pipeline
Japanese resistance apparently collapsed or withdrew after a bitter defense had been put up at the field's approaches.

Sambodja, village, normally inhabited by about 1,500 people, is 28 miles northeast of Balikpapan and is situated on one of the pipelines that used to feed Balikpapan. Dutch East Indies troops repulsed a Japanese counterattack north of Balikpapan as the Aussies fanned out through the entire oil-producing complex of fields and refinery centers around the great oil port. They pushed the Japanese back into the interior and salt coastal marshes.

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—Aviation authorities today invited 50 school administrators to an aviation operations institute at the capital's New Cumberland airport on August 4.

10,000 JAPS IN MOUNTAINS OF OKINAWA ISLE

Okinawa, July 20 (AP)—An estimated 10,000 Japanese troops are hiding in northern Okinawa's rugged mountains, the army estimated today, a month after the island was captured.

The Nipponese are being hunted down and killed at an average of 50 daily it was announced at headquarters of Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander of the 24th Army Corps.

The announcement followed by a few hours the first Japanese aerial attack on the island in nearly a month. Three enemy planes were downed by Marine night fighters.

Radio Tokyo claimed, without confirmation, that Nipponese raiders "cornered and attacked a group of enemy warships" in Okinawa waters yesterday and sank a cruiser and a large transport.

Can't Find Prisoners
While the 82-day battle raged for Okinawa, vital as an air and naval base to prosecution of the war against Japan, Nipponese aerial attacks on shipping were frequent. The enemy sank 32 U. S. vessels and damaged some 60 in the entire Ryukyus campaign, including U. S. fleet attacks on the Japanese mainland.

Hodge's headquarters said new information indicates there were 90,000 Japanese garrison troops on Okinawa when the Americans landed April 1 and that the Nipponese drafted 50,000 Okinawans for military service. This total of 140,000 defenders was nearly double the preinvasion U. S. estimates.

More than 100,000 Japanese troops and Okinawan conscripts were killed in battle and about 10,000 have been slain or captured since the island was secured June 22.

A careful search of the island has failed to disclose the fate of Americans taken prisoner by the Japanese.

An Inexpensive Outdoor Cellar

Immediate marketing after harvest, canning, drying, burial and other methods of disposal and storage will not prevent at least a part of our 1945 record-breaking food production from wastage. And, as war requirements and domestic needs will likely continue above production levels for the next year, careful saving of this season's crops becomes a national emergency. In many instances an underground cellar, often called an outdoor cellar, is the only practical solution.

Of course, growers who have steep banks or hillsides near at hand enjoy advantages over level-land builders, for when a cellar is built into a hill or bank, much insulation is gained from the firm ground which otherwise would have to be constructed into the walls and roof. But in either case, hillside or level ground, general construction principles remain greatly similar.

First, outside walls should be banked with or formed by sufficient earth to permit easy control of indoor temperature at all times. If any part of the structure extends above the ground level, particularly when made of timber, it should be amply insulated to prevent dangerous variation of indoor temperature with the outside of weather.

Provide Insulation
Walls may be constructed of concrete, stone, brick or lumber. If walls or roof is built with lumber, at least 6 inches of space should be provided for insulation, preferably with sawdust.

The roof, if it is above the ground and cannot be covered with soil, should likewise have insulation between the outside surface and ceiling. Of course, if constructed with Concrete, arched and then covered with soil, the cellar roof problem is solved permanently, including much of the temperature control evils of the future.

The floor may be made of clay, stone or concrete. But for general storage purposes, especially to permit adequate ventilation, the floor should be composed of 2-inch strips laid on 2 X 6 cross timbers, with about an inch of space between strips. This type of floor permits air to move beneath the entire cellar and circulate up through the openings, thereby reducing many storage rots.

Ventilation Important
Ventilation is an important phase of cellar construction. Not only are certain crops kept safely only where ventilation of the cellar is free and yet controlled, but temperature regulation is largely a matter of ventilation. One of the better methods is to construct an intake through the cellar floor near the front, using 3 to 6-inch tile or even a wooden flue. The outlet or outlets should be located through the roof or ceiling near the rear of the room, both intake and outlet equipped with handy, easily accessible dampers to permit easy opening and closing.

Indoor temperature is lowered by keeping ventilation flues closed when the outside air is warm and by opening them when the outdoor air is cooler. And of course, the reverse is employed to raise the cellar temperature. Likewise the humidity can be controlled by admitting damp air and by sprinkling at least part of the floor and walls in emergency cases.

The editor invites interested readers to write him about their prospective storage cellar needs and plans to build extra storage room.

Just Folks

YOUNG ROBIN

Little robin, red of breast
Have they thrust you from the nest,
Turned you out and bade you fly,
And are you afraid to try?
For the life that you must lead
Is it confidence you need?

I have seen you through the pane
Waiting, calling all in vain,
Thinking she is coming back,
Robin, it's not strength you lack,
Well she knew that you could fly
If you'd only dare to try.

Little robin so afraid!
Capable to live you're made.
You've the strength and you've the skill!
You can fly if but you will!
Prove to all the young about
Fit for triumph they're turned out.

Today's Talk

PURSUITS

We all ought to be deeply imbued with the idea that we are going somewhere! In other words, we should have not one, but many pursuits.

The scholar has his. The farmer, professional man, business builder, artist, poet, writer, or even the collector, has his own special pursuit. But outside the main one, there should be dozens of others, so as to keep the mind on edge, and the enthusiasm well fed.

Delving into the waters of the ocean to gain knowledge of under sea life, must be a most fascinating pursuit, as also is that of studying into the geological formations of the earth and learning of the thousands, and even millions, of years that went along before man came to take rent upon its vast acres.

One thing is important, however, and that is that no pursuit is of much value if it doesn't increase one's store of happiness. You see the heart must be given lordship over a pursuit in order to have it turn out to be important.

The mind not only reveals in ideas, but it is stimulated by them, and a well stimulated mind hungers for pursuits. You will note that people who achieve great things have regular rivers of thoughts, and they branch out in all directions. What an inspiring man is Henry J. Kaiser! Nothing seems too difficult for him to tackle. And his pursuits seem to be legion. He no sooner gets one started than he starts another.

These pursuits of ours, however, should follow our tastes and likes. And each one should be directed toward something definite and useful. Many of them just for pure pleasure of the pursuit. Each of us needs such a pursuit to keep our mental and spiritual machinery well oiled.

The great task of life is to happily and healthily sustain life, and these pursuits of ours do just this. They keep us on an even keel and nourish us.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Contrasts."

Truman Addresses Yanks In Berlin

Berlin, July 20 (AP)—President Truman told victorious American troops today the United States was fighting for the peace, welfare and prosperity of all mankind.

It was the first address by any of the Big Three since the Potsdam conference opened.

The President drove more than five miles from the little White House to suburban Argenteischer Allee of Berlin to see the American flag raised over new headquarters of the United States Group Control Council of the Allied Control Commission for Germany.

The flag was the same one which was hoisted in Rome on July 4, 1944. Before that, it waved over Algiers when Gen. Eisenhower had headquarters there.

SAYS CONGRESS WILL APPROVE 4 BIG MEASURES

Washington, July 20 (AP)—Two down, two to go. The Senate is racing to nail down the last of four big programs which will put us into political and economic cooperation with the rest of the world.

The programs—which the Roosevelt-Truman administrations have described as of the utmost importance to this country after the war—are:

1. The reciprocal trade agreements. House and Senate already have approved them. They're settled.
2. The Bretton Woods monetary agreements. The Senate okayed them last night. The House already had done so.
3. The United Nations charter. The Senate tackles this next week. The House has nothing to do with this. (The charter is really a treaty and only the Senate handles treaties.) The Senate will approve.
4. The export-import bank. The House already has approved its expansion. The Senate is expected to approve before getting into debate on the charter.

Two Old Programs

The trade agreements and the export-import bank are not new programs. The charter and the Bretton Woods agreements are a product of this war. Work on them started several years ago. They're just now reaching Congress.

With the charter approved, this country throws off isolationism and joins a world organization to keep peace.

The Bretton Woods agreements are intended to prevent postwar cut-throat financial competition among nations. They set up a fund and a bank.

The fund is intended to keep world money stable. The bank will make loans for postwar reconstruction and development.

The reciprocal trade agreements, first set up by Congress in 1934, have had to be renewed by Congress every few years. They were renewed this year.

They permit the President to shift tariff rates up or down within a limit of 50 per cent. This enables this country to work out good trade deals with countries willing to work out good trade deals with us. It encourages trade.

Reason For Approval

Congress established the export-import bank in 1934. It helps our international trade by making loans, or guaranteeing loans, for exporters and importers when commercial banks are reluctant about lending them money.

The Senate is expected to rush through approval on the export-import bank for this reason:

We are the first of the 44 nations which drew up the Bretton Woods agreements a year ago—at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire—to approve. It will take time, perhaps a year or more, for the others to approve.

Until a sufficient number of them gives the okay, the agreements can't come into operation.

One Sailor Killed In Halifax Blast

Halifax, July 20 (AP)—The Royal Canadian Navy announced today that one sailor was known to have been killed and three other Navy men were among 25 persons treated for minor injuries sustained during the terrific armament depot blasts which rocked this area early yesterday. So far as is known, none is missing.

Approximately 80,000 persons who had fled the north section of Halifax and Dartmouth just across the harbor near the depot, streamed back to their homes last night as the danger waned.

Fire-fighting units late yesterday gained control of the mighty blaze which had roared through the depot, touching off four terrific blasts and a rumbling series of minor explosions and spraying the Bedford basin area with shells and debris. Firefighters had managed to keep the flames from the main munitions magazine, where 50,000 depth charges were stored.

LOSS OF SUGAR

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—A warning order was issued by OPA Hearing Commissioner Kenneth V. Fisher yesterday to J. L. Hocker-smith and Sons, Shippensburg, after it was reported an alleged shortage in sugar rationing stamps was due to a recent loss of sugar from the company's warehouse.

Mrs. Wilbur Plank, with her small daughter, Miss Alice, is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tawney, Springs avenue.

Wheat Acreage For 1946 Is Increased

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—An increase of 2,000 acres to 970,000 acres as the Pennsylvania wheat goal for next year's planting season was announced today by the state Agricultural Conservation Committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The committee, at a meeting yesterday, decided to boost the wheat goal rather than that of corn in Pennsylvania. A statement said a larger wheat crop fits into the critical labor situation in Pennsylvania better than corn because wheat requires less labor for planting and harvesting.

The committee also fixed 45,000 acres as the goal for the rye crop, a reduction of 3,000 acres from this year's crop.

BIG CIGAR LEAF CROP

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—The Agriculture Department estimates the state's 1945 cigar leaf tobacco crop at 44,500,000 pounds, a drop of nearly 8,000,000 pounds from that reported last year, despite increased acreages for both the Pennsylvania seed leaf and Pennsylvania Havana seed varieties.

DECIDE SOON ON COLLEGE PREXY

Harrisburg, July 20 (AP)—The board of trustees of Shippensburg State Teachers college has the promise of early action by Governor Martin on the selection of Major Levi Gilbert, Altoona educator, as the new president of the school.

Dr. Raymond Mowry, board chairman, said the chief executive promised a decision soon when the trustees and Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction, conferred with him yesterday.

Major Gilbert was elected head of the college May 11 to succeed Dr. Albert Lindsay Rowland, who retired May 31, but Martin's approval is necessary.

$6,000 Year Post

Gilbert, who resigned as superintendent of schools at Altoona before entering military service, was chosen after Dr. J. Frank Faust, Chambersburg, declined the $6,000 a year post.

"There is no other candidate," Dr. Mowry declared when asked if any other person's name came up during the conference. "The board wants to get this matter settled one way or another before considering anyone else."

Earlier William R. Shearer, board member from Carlisle, said he was ready to present the name of Ralph Heiges, dean of Indiana State Teachers college, for the post. He said his objection to Major Gilbert was that his military service may prevent him from immediately assuming the post "and we need a president now."

DOROTHY BURGESS

Chapter 23

"God give me strength, Fred," said John. "I feel just about played out!" Whereupon adding a greater strain to his jangled nerves, Madge's bedroom door swung open and Mario floated out like a dream in her glorified, white satin nightgown.

"Well, John," she cooed, "how do I look," pivoting like a model for his benefit. John covered his eyes from embarrassment as the splits in her skirt opened up brazenly. And the doctor, being the diplomat, answered for him.

"Startlingly beautiful, I would say," said the doctor.

Mario came to a floating pause in front of the doctor and after turning him a quick once over giving to John. "Well, John, don't you think it's the proper time to introduce us?"

John stared at her. "You mean Fred?" he asked.

"Fred who?" she shrugged prettily.

"Oh darling," groaned John. Then he pulled himself together. "This is Dr. Fred Bliss."

Dinner was most delightful and most confusing. Mario was too, too delightful and the men were completely confused. Neither John nor the doctor could keep his eyes from wandering to the empty chair, and John kept asking himself. Is it empty or is Uncle Louie sitting in it? For the men, the realization that Uncle Louie was not present came in rather a shocking fashion—they suddenly saw what they thought was their Madge wave gaily toward the empty hall.

How were they to know that Uncle Louie had just passed by on his way back to his laboratory in the basement, and that he had waved to Mario as he skipped past the open doors? A look passed between John and the doctor. Naturally they had seen nothing.

John nervously cleared his throat and asked gently, "Whom are you waving at, dear?"

"Uncle Louie," she said casually. "At least, thought John, we know the old codger isn't here at the table

CHAPLAIN HOME AFTER 3 YEARS IN SO. PACIFIC

Chaplain (Major) George H. Berkheimer, Abbottstown, on leave of absence from Arendtsville Lutheran charge, and only Adams county minister who served both in the infantry and as a chaplain in this war, is home on a 30-day leave after three years in the Pacific theater of war area.

He wears the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with four stars, Papuan, New Guinea, Southern Philippines and Luzon and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with one star.

Chaplain Berkheimer entered the service in February, 1942, as a second Lieutenant of Infantry, a commission he earned in 1932 after completing the Reserve Officers Training Corps course at Gettysburg college from which he graduated in 1932. He was transferred to the Chaplain service in Townsville, Queensland, Australia, in February, 1943. Major Berkheimer is a graduate of the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary in 1935 and from then until he entered service served the Arendtsville charge.

Lauds U. S. Soldier

Major Berkheimer speaks highly and in complimentary way of American soldier as the "greatest fighting man in the world, and the Japs know it." He also praised the high spirit of cooperation and harmony between Chaplains of all denominations. He was Supply Chaplain for the Southwest Pacific area, assigned to Headquarters, United States Army, Service of Supplies, and at one time he had more than 1,000 chaplains, Catholics, Protestants and Jews in his unit.

His duties were to procure and distribute all religious supplies for all Chaplains in his outfit. These included sacramental supplies, bibles, testaments, prayer books, missals, rosaries, altar equipment, music, etc. Supplies were secured from the states and from Australia. Chaplain Berkheimer cited one instance where a Catholic chaplain officiated at the burial services for a Protestant chaplain. The eulogy was delivered by another Catholic chaplain, a personal friend of the deceased.

"Soldiers attended service in large numbers and the closer to combat area they were, the larger the attendance," said Major Berkheimer.

"Chaplains held regular Sunday services wherever they were and other services were held wherever possible. Many attractive chapels, of the thatch or quansot types, were built by chaplains and soldiers. Services were also held in mess halls, in the mountains, on hillside or any place that was available," said Chaplain Berkheimer.

An Easter Dawn service at which the local chaplain officiated was attended by more than 1,200 men and at many other services at which he officiated Mrs. Douglas MacArthur was among the worshippers.

Chaplains of all denominations attended regular chaplain conferences and in Manila Major Berkheimer held monthly meetings for Protestant chaplains and Protestant missionaries who had been liberated from the Japanese. He said that many thousands of dollars had been voluntarily contributed by American fighting men for the work of the rehabilitation of the missionary work in the Philippines.

The local chaplain escaped unscathed throughout his three years in the war zones. He said he enjoyed "good health" despite the tropical heat.

From Arendtsville Chaplain Berkheimer went to Fort George G. Meade, then to Pittsburgh and then to Australia. He also served at New Guinea, Netherlands East Indies, the Solomons, Leyte and Luzon.

He sailed under the Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco at 11 p. m. on the night of July 4, arrived at Camp Dix in July 11 and reached Arendtsville on July 13.

Mrs. Berkheimer and son, William D. Berkheimer, now four and one-half years old, remained at the Arendtsville parsonage during the Chaplain's absence.

CASE LOAD OF ASSISTANCE IN COUNTY LOWER

The case load of the Adams County Board of Public Assistance is only two more than a year ago Mrs. Donald Myers, executive director, told board of directors at their regular meeting Monday evening in the board's offices.

Mrs. Myers reported 461 old age cases; 79 pension for blind; 74 for aid to dependent children and 56 general assistance cases, a total of 670. Last year at this time there were 668.

It was also announced at Monday's meeting that the county Health Arts Advisory committee will, after August 1, under the new state medical program, be an advisory unit and not administrative as in the past. The board includes Dr. C. H. Johnson, chairman, for the medical practitioners, Dr. Walter Danforth for the dentists and Frank Britcher for the pharmacists.

Juvenile Cases

Mrs. Myers told the board that during a four months' period last year local doctors received 100 per cent payment for their services from the money allocated to the county for medical care and that this same provision would prevail under the new medical program.

The board also discussed a few assistance cases, generally called border-line cases in which the state provides that relatives, when financially able should contribute to the assistance of those needing aid. Board members also discussed juvenile cases.

Those present at the meeting included: M. Stuart Danner, president; J. Hays Beard, Harold Reuning, J. H. Weaver, of Littlestown; J. D. Miller, of Biglerville, and Mrs. Rasmus S. Saby.

The next meeting of the board will be held August 14.

The injured youth, who was an occupant of the Toomey car, is a patient in the Hanover hospital suffering from a fractured left ankle and lacerations of the face. He was taken there in the ambulance.

The automobile, owned by Paul Toomey, Gettysburg R. D. 5, was damaged to the extent of about $600, according to Hanover borough police, who investigated the accident. The fence at the Bollinger home was knocked down.

The fire company plans to hold another drive next Sunday, July 22, and all residents of Gettysburg are urged to have their tin and paper set out ready for collection at 1 p. m.

SURVIVOR OF KAMIKAZE JAP ATTACK HOME

Seaman First Class Henry Weikert, New Oxford, was aboard the USS Drexler, a destroyer, when she was sunk by a Japanese kamikaze suicide plane off Okinawa May 28. At present he is spending a 30-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Harry S. Weikert, and his wife and son in New Oxford.

Five planes came at the Drexler from the north, presumably from the Japanese homeland, according to Seaman Weikert. The guns from the destroyer hit two and one was knocked down by a Navy plane. Two got through.

When the first one hit, the explosion was light but it knocked out the Drexler's power so that the guns could not train and she lay dead in the water. Weikert, who is a radar operator, said that he came out on the bridge and saw the second one approaching. There was no possibility of escape, he said, but he returned to the radar room. The ship, its sides blown out, sank in 49 seconds after the second kamikaze plane hit. It struck with a tremendous explosion.

First Combat Mission

The order to abandon ship was given immediately and the crew took to the water. They were picked up later and sent back to the United States aboard a Navy transport. About 180 men, half of the ship's crew, perished in the sinking, the Navy said.

Upon expiration of his leave, Seaman Weikert will report to the Navy Yard at Philadelphia for reassignment.

He entered the service May 12, 1944, and trained at Camp Peary, Va., and the Navy Service School at Virginia Beach. He joined the Drexler at Norfolk, November 14, 1944, and sailed for the Pacific in February of this year. The Drexler, a new 2,200 ton destroyer of the Summers class, was sunk on her first combat mission.

County Exceeds All Quotas In 7th Bond Drive

Adams county bounded "over the top" in the "Mighty Seventh" War Loan Drive, exceeded all three quotas, including E bond quota, and set a new high record for bond sales in war drives, according to an announcement Friday from the Third Federal Reserve Bank to Edmund W. Thomas, Chairman of the Adams County War Finance Committee.

The surprising and startling feature of the announcement is that the county topped its E bond quota by $9,301.25. On the last day of the drive, July 7, unofficial figures revealed that the county was approximately $75,000 short of its E bond quota.

Almost Double Quota

Total sales of war bonds in the Seventh Drive reach the amazing figure of $3,774,053.25, the largest financing project every achieved in Adams county. These figures gave Adams county an over-subscription of $1,644,053.25. This is only $445,946.75 short of over-subscribing the county quota by 100 per cent.

Another interesting feature of the Federal Reserve Bank's figures, which are listed as "official and final," is that service men and women from Adams county purchased $38,900 worth of E bonds.

COUNTIAN ASKS I.C.C. PERMIT TO OPERATE BUS

At an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in Hagerstown on Saturday, Taneytown interests which previously had supported the Potomac Motor Lines application for a permit to operate bus service between Frederick and York, Pa., endorsed the application of Lester H. Prock, of Littlestown, Pa., trading as the Lincoln Bus Company.

An official of the Blue Ridge Rubber company and a Taneytown Chamber of Commerce representative admitted that they were not inclined to endorse a schedule that might encourage persons living along the proposed route to seek employment in Frederick.

The entire day was spent in taking testimony of interested persons. The testimony was not completed until 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Requests Reported

A number of ticket agents and bus dispatchers for the Blue Ridge Lines testified that they have had numerous requests for accommodations over the proposed route.

A hearing before the Public Service Commission on the application of the Potomac Motor Lines to operate bus service between Frederick and Taneytown was scheduled Tuesday in Baltimore. Residents of Woodsboro and Walkersville are planning to appear in favor of the proposed route.

Taneytown spokesmen at the Saturday hearing made it clear that they are opposed to operation of a bus route that might facilitate a drain on available labor sources in the Woodsboro, Taneytown and Littlestown areas.

Would Provide Service

Spokesmen for the Potomac Motor Lines said they proposed to provide service to workers and the general public in both directions. They have no interest in where the patrons work. It was pointed out. They feel that adequate service should be provided, permitting workers to make their own choice where they shall seek employment.

The Office of Defense Transportation has approved the Potomac Motor Lines proposed schedule as a home-to-work schedule.

Counsel for the Lincoln Bus Lines also represents the Woodsboro operator of a bus which daily hauls workers in that area to the Littlestown and Taneytown plants.

No action was taken at the hearing Saturday by ICC representatives.

GUARDSMAN IS HURT IN CRASH ON MANEUVERS

John E. Beard, a corporal in Troop C, local unit of the Pennsylvania State Guard, was a patient in the Warner hospital Saturday suffering from injuries he received when the motorcycle he was riding collided with the rear of a guard truck as a motorized column of guardsmen moved west on the Fairfield road Friday evening about 8:15 o'clock.

Beard, who was said Saturday morning to be in a "satisfactory" condition at the hospital, is suffering from severe lacerations of the face and forehead, cerebral concussion, a laceration of the left ear and contusions of the chest involving some bone injury, the seriousness of which has not been determined. The possibility that he had suffered critical internal injuries was removed at the hospital this morning.

Captain C. Arthur Brame, commander of the guard unit, was not available Saturday for a report on the accident but other members of the unit said the column was moving toward Fairfield on a map problem while another part of the troop traveled west on the Lincoln highway.

'Cycle Damaged

The trucks ahead of Beard stopped and his cycle hit the rear of the scout car immediately ahead of him. It was said to have been driven by Corp. Irvin Rabenstein of Spring Grove R. 3. Neither Rabenstein nor any of the seven or eight guardsmen riding in the truck was injured.

The rear of the truck was not damaged but the front of the motorcycle was considerably damaged, guardsmen said. Beard was riding alone on the vehicle.

The accident occurred about a mile west of Gettysburg.

COUNTIAN ON EVANS; BEAT OFF JAP THRUST

Donald B. Shetter, 21, quartermaster second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shetter, Biglerville, is stationed on the destroyer Evans, which helped the Hugh W. Hadley, another destroyer, in knocking down 38 Jap suicide planes in a battle off Okinawa on May 11.

Shetter entered the service about three years ago and is now in his 19th month of sea duty.

Washington, (AP)—The destroyers Hugh W. Hadley and Evans knocked down 38 Japanese suicide planes in an hour and 45-minute battle off Okinawa on May 11, the Navy disclosed Saturday night.

The bag, the Navy said, was the largest ever reported for ships of their size during a single action.

Altogether, 88 enemy planes were destroyed in the epic struggle, with Marine Corsair pilots shooting down an additional 50 from the attacking force of more than 150.

Evans Gets 15

The 2050-ton Evans, smaller of the team, got 15 planes and was credited with four assists in 73 minutes before its guns were silenced.

The 2200-ton Hadley established an all-time record for destroyers by bringing down 23 Japanese planes in 105 minutes. In the last 30 minutes the Hadley protected the crippled Evans although the Hadley itself was damaged and at one time seemed about to capsize.

Attack in Groups

The Japanese struck in groups of four to six at a time. The battle reached such ferocity at one time that the Evans was bringing down suicide planes diving on the Hadley, as well as protecting herself, while the Hadley was gunning for aircraft at a greater distance.

Lieutenant James M. Smith of New Freedom, Pa., the Evans' surgeon, said guns were firing so rapidly and so long that relief had to be provided for exhausted ammunition loaders.

Crash on Decks

Four suicide planes crashed on the Evans' decks and hull and the Hadley took hits that flooded both engine rooms and one fire room and knocked out its main battery.

The first kamikaze pilot crashed into the Evans' bow an hour after the battle started. In quick succession, three more hit her.

One resulting explosion blew the executive officer, Lieutenant John W. Gilpin, of Windsor, Vt., over the side. A seaman, Pat J. Macciocca, of Baltimore, Md., plunged into the water and supported him until both were picked up.

Guns Out of Action

A few minutes later the Evans' guns went out of action and the Hadley alone took over the job of fending off the Japanese planes. Sensing a kill, 10 suicide planes struck simultaneously. All were shot down, but the Hadley was damaged and most of her guns were knocked out.

As the attack began to taper off, many of the Corsair pilots ran out of ammunition but continued to shield the battered destroyers by riding the enemy planes into the water.

Wounded Removed

When the Hadley threatened to capsize, the wounded were taken over the side to life rafts and floats. The remainder of the crews, however, managed to keep the craft afloat and both destroyers reached harbor the next day.

The skipper of the Evans is Captain Robert John Archer, formerly of Spokane, Wash., now a resident of Piedmont, Calif. Captain Baron Joseph Mullaney, of New Bedford, Mass., in captain of the Hadley.

MISS K. OLLER
SELECTED NEW
CO. LIBRARIAN

Miss Kathryn Oller, librarian for the Huntingdon county library for the last three years, was selected as the first librarian for the Adams County Free Library at a joint meeting Monday evening of the library association directors, a special committee on a librarian and the county commissioners.

Miss Oller, who is specially trained in library work and has engaged in county library work since 1940, will take up her duties here October 1 at a salary of $2,000 per year.

Her election followed the submission of a two-page report by the library committee in which Miss Oller's selection was recommended. The committee said it was "impressed by Miss Oller's understanding of the needs of a county library in its initial stages, her years of experience in county library work so similar in set-up to that in Adams county, her apparent organizational ability, her energy, initiative and public spirited attitude."

Miss Oller was recommended after the committee had consulted state and national library sources for applicants. Eight were considered for the position, the committee reported.

Graduate of Juniata

Miss Oller is a graduate of Waynesboro high school in the class of 1934 and received the degree of bachelor of arts from Juniata college in 1938. The following year she was awarded the degree of bachelor of science in library science by the Drexel Institute Library school and in 1940 went to Huntingdon county as assistant librarian. She also was employed by Juniata college as cataloger in the college library and was made head of the accession department there. She was promoted to the position of Huntingdon county librarian in 1942. She is a member of both state and national library associations and is chairman of the county library section of the Pennsylvania Librarians' association and serves on its directory committee.

The new librarian will be in Adams county August 8 and 9 to meet with the library and property committees to help prepare for library service here, plan for the purchase of supplies and attend to other matters preliminary to the beginning of library service now.

Membership Grows

At Monday evening's meeting, O. H. Benson, chairman of the board, announced that the membership drive which already has passed the initial goal of 3,000 has enrolled men, women and children in every borough and township in the county and that the memberships continue to come in.

Mr. Benson reported on progress with library work in New Oxford, Abbotstown and York Springs where branch libraries are being planned. It was announced that the New Oxford borough council has promised to make provision for a library reading room there and has allotted an additional $250 for library purposes in that borough.

The board chairman spoke of the need for the establishment of a speaker's bureau to explain the library program to clubs and organizations throughout the county.

Seek Central Library

The directors discussed again the problem of locating appropriate housing for the central library in Gettysburg.

Those who attended Monday evening's meeting in the court house included Mr. Benson; George P. Taylor, chairman of the board of county commissioners; Mrs. Quincy Hershey, a library director; Mrs. E. S. Lewars, a director; Miss Marion J. Biggs, board secretary; Calvin Cluck, a director and member of the library committee; Mrs. Lester Johnson, a director; W. W. Eisenhart, Abbotstown; Mrs. Grace Himes and the Rev. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford; and Dr. Robert Bream, members of the library committee; Clarence C. Smith, clerk to the county commissioners; and John H. Knickerbocker, chairman of the advisory committee of librarians.

WASTE PAPER
NEED IS CITED
BY DR. ELGIN

A candle housed in a carton made of waste paper helps our soldiers in the Pacific war warm their K and C rations and heats water for tea or coffee, Dr. Eugene Elgin, chairman of the Salvage committee of the Adams County Council of Defense pointed out today, as he stressed the storage of paper for the armed forces.

"The container," he said, "serves as a wick for the paraffin candle which burns even while floating in water."

"Because of the necessity for traveling light on combat missions, soldiers cannot always carry gasoline stoves or take the time to find dry wood even if a big fire were permissible. The new fuel tablet, packaged in paperboard made of waste paper, provides heat for cooking under the most difficult combat conditions."

Use Paper for Fuse

"The candles will burn about twenty-five minutes and can be blown out and re-lighted. They come in the form of a cube about two inches square."

"The paperboard container of the candle was designed not only as a protective medium, but also as a fuse for easy lighting. All a soldier has to do is tear open the flaps of the container and light them, the paper setting fire to the highly refined paraffin contents. The fuel tablets are waterproof and will burn after being in the water for long periods of time."

"First field tests of the fuel tablet were made at the Quartermaster's Depot in Chicago where in the face of a hard Chicago wind and a temperature of eighteen degrees the fuel furnished sufficient heat to prepare a piping hot meal. All meat components of emergency and combat rations are packaged ready to eat as they come out of the cans, but all of them can be improved by heating."

"One use of the tablets developed by the G.I.'s is to heat shovels which can throw a lot of warmth in a tent on a cold night."

Dr. Elgin urged countians to save all their waste paper to help supply the paper cartons needed by the armed forces.

NAB COUNTIAN IN TALLOW THEFT

Two men are held under $500 bail each for a robbery which occurred at the plant of A. F. Rees, Inc., Hanover, on the night of July 9. At that time four drums of white tallow, containing 450 pounds each, and valued at $200 disappeared. The men held are Edward C. Cleek, 47, Mifflintown, Juniata county, and Charles Laughman, Green Springs, Adams county, night watchman at the plant.

The robbery was reported to the York substation of the state police and Pfc. Leslie Jackson investigated. In checking over the night watchman's records it was noticed that he was a half-hour late in making his usual report at midnight. Laughman was then questioned by the state trooper and the officer states that he learned that Cleek had approached Laughman at the plant around midnight and had offered him $10 if he would step away from the place while he took the tallow.

The state trooper says that Laughman accepted the bribe and that then Cleek drove up with his truck and loaded the four drums on it after which he left. Cleek was apprehended at his home in Mifflintown, the officer states, before he had disposed of the tallow which, it is alleged, he had planned to sell to another dealer.

It is stated that Cleek was at the plant earlier in the day at which time he sold a number of hides to the Rees company and it was then that he saw the drums of tallow.

Both Cleek and Laughman have been charged with larceny. They will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace John Smith, Springettsbury township, this Wednesday afternoon.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN LOOT

Gettysburg police recovered a bushel of merchandise that had been stolen from merchants by more than 60 cherry pickers Saturday evening. Some of the merchandise has not been recovered and Gettysburg police are of belief that it has been hidden some where in town.

Two bus loads of cherry pickers were taken to Gettysburg early Saturday evening. They attended a movie, then visited the stores. One merchant reported to police that three pen and pencil sets had been stolen. Police recovered all but one pencil of this loot.

Then the police started in pursuit of the cherry pickers, said to be from Wilkes-Barre and ranging in age from 14 to 17 years.

They rounded up most of the youths at the buses in the lot behind the farm bureau building. When they started searching the youths there was a wholesale "delivery" of merchandise to the police. Some of the loot was found in the buses. Other articles were found in alleys and some near the court house.

The recovered loot was returned to the merchants but police are unable to estimate how much merchandise was stolen and how much was not recovered. The entire police force worked until nearly midnight on the case. The youths were turned over to those in charge of the party.

HANDLED BY RED
CROSS IN JUNE

The case load for the Adams County Chapter of the American Red Cross amounting to 235 during the month of June was the largest ever handled here, Miss Margaret McMillan, executive secretary of the chapter announced Wednesday, with the publication of the June Home Service report.

Of the cases cared for 134 were army, 37 navy, 48 ex-service and 16 civilian, Miss McMillan said. There were 168 office calls, 51 home visits, 95 new cases, 14 reopened, 75 recurrent and 51 brought forward.

Emergency Messages

During the past month 58 emergency messages for service men and women and their families were handled by the Home Service, Miss McMillan stated, pointing out that this represents a steady increase in the number of cases handled by the chapter and that requests for this kind of service will probably not decrease in the immediate future.

These messages are sent in the event of sickness, death or other emergencies in the serviceman's family. With victory in Europe the need for service to the man who may be transferred to the Pacific or retained in Europe has increased.

Miss McMillan also pointed out that the continued absence of servicemen and women will maintain a steady demand for service after actual hostilities have ceased.

ROTARIANS HEAR
DR. D. F. EHLMAN

"The outcome of the struggle in the Far East will mean more to America than the end of the war in Europe," Dr. Dobbs F. Ehlman, New Oxford pastor and former missionary and student in the orient, told members of the Gettysburg Rotary club Monday evening in an address at the "Y" building.

"We are living at a turning point in the history of the world and we must establish closer relations with oriental civilization or the result will be more wars in the future," the Reformed pastor asserted.

Contrasting the histories of the Chinese and other peoples of the East, Doctor Ehlman said Confucianism has made the Chinese practical as contrasted with the mystics of some of the other cults of the orient. "Confucius was essentially an occidental in thought and was the same type of thinker as Lincoln and Franklin," the speaker said.

He quoted Madame Chiang Kai Chek as listing the four pillars of good government as courtesy, integrity, modesty and loyalty. Referring to the Japanese, he said that many of them are "the finest type in the world" and that it is a tragedy that the war element brought the nation into world conflict.

Vice President Chester N. Gitt presided at the meeting with 42 members and guests present. Appropriate services were conducted in memory of Rotarian William H. Allison, who died last week.

Edgar Kemp, Princess Anne, Md., was a guest.

BLACK MARKET
OPERATORS ARE SCARCE HERE

So far as Black Markets are concerned, the Harrisburg 10-county area (which includes Adams County) area has one of the cleanest records of any district in the five-state OPA Region II. It was announced Saturday by Walter C. Young, District OPA Director.

"For instance, statistical reports show that counterfeit ration currency for only 385 pounds of sugar were charged against this district by the New York Verification Center last month," Young pointed out. "This is all the more remarkable when it is considered that sugar ration counterfeits ranged as high as 44,000 pounds in other districts within our Region."

Commenting upon the fact that there have been wholesale seizures of counterfeit ration currency in Philadelphia, Newark, New York and Chicago running into millions of red and blue points, recently, the District OPA Director revealed that few reports of bogus stamps being circulated in this district have been received.

Fear Bogus Coupons

Ration currency deposited by dealers in their ration bank accounts is closely examined at the OPA Verification Center in New York and powerful violet ray lamps and acid tests are employed to detect counterfeits quickly. All counterfeits found are returned to the District OPA Office for investigation and no time is lost in checking up on the depositors.

As a result of this fool-proof enforcement action, storekeepers are becoming more and more wary of accepting loose coupons for fear they might be counterfeits, according to Young, who also revealed that many dealers are working in close cooperation with OPA and are constantly on the look-out for bogus stamps. The person who passes counterfeits is liable to criminal prosecution, it was pointed out.

Black Marketers were grimly warned this week that they can expect rigid enforcement action in this district when Joseph Maugere and Michael Bergamo, of Newark, N. J., were sentenced in U. S. Middle District Court at Scranton, to serve five and three years, respectively, in a Federal penitentiary as well as being fined $1000 and $500. They were caught at Lebanon in December with counterfeit sugar and gasoline ration stamps. Incidentally, this is one of the stiffest prison sentences yet meted out to counterfeit peddlers in the country, according to Charles J. Ware, District OPA Enforcement Attorney.

Local People Honest

"Nat rally we are very proud of the fact that this area is comparatively free of counterfeit coupons," Director Young concluded. "We hope to keep it that way. It is an indication that the people of this part of the country are honest, patriotic and alert. They can resist the temptation to deal with law-breakers to get more than their share of meat and other scarce commodities. Our citizens have consciences and for that we can give thanks."

"But it must be remembered that OPA cannot police every sale or every seller. If the communities really want controls enforced, they've got to get behind OPA and make them work."

How the second half of the July quota will be disposed of has not been worked out, the office spokesman said.

ONLY 3 YOUTHS OFFERED BRIEF VACATION HERE
Only three under-privileged children from the tenement districts of New York are scheduled to enjoy a two weeks' vacation in Gettysburg and Adams county next month, according to reports received from members of the committee from the Gettysburg Woman's Club.

Four members of the committee Thursday reported that thus far one family had volunteered to take two youngsters and another offered to take one for the vacation period the last two weeks in August.

The local Woman's club is sponsoring the project in cooperation with charity organizations and the New York Herald Tribune.

The plan is to have county families volunteer to take one or more youngsters from 5 to 9 years of age, from the tenement districts in New York for a two weeks' vacation here next month. The New York Herald Tribune pays the transportation expenses. The youngsters arrive on a date to be announced later. They will be met at the station by those volunteering to take them for the vacation period. Each youngster will bring his own ration book.

Mrs. Ira Henderson, Fairfield, chairman of the committee, is out of town and it is not known whether she had received additional offers. Members of the committee said Thursday that the response has not been up to expectations, that thus far, to the best of their knowledge, only three youngsters had been arranged for.

The club planned to secure vacation homes for at least 12 youngsters; most of whom had never seen a cow, a farm or had ever been in a rural section. Their vacations, it was said, had been spent in the teeming tenement districts where they have no opportunity to enjoy a real vacation in the wide open spaces.

Those who are willing to give some boy or girl a two weeks' vacation the last two weeks in August are asked to contact any member of the committee, stating whether they wish one or more boy or girl and of what age. Committee members include: Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Mrs. Edgar Hamilton and Mrs. Edgar Dearoff.

SGT. D. O. PRICE BELIEVED DEAD; BUDDY IS HERE

With a War Department message declaring her son, T. Sgt. Donald Omar Price, dead expected next week, the mother of the missing airman, Mrs. Helen Price, 100 Baltimore street, has learned details of her son's last mission July 26, 1944, from one of the three members of the crew of nine known to have survived.

T. Sgt. Joseph Landers, 22, Bronx, N. Y., top turret gunner on the B-24 Liberator bomber on which Price served as radio gunner, came to Gettysburg to visit the mother of the boy with whom he had trained in this country and served overseas on 30 or more bombing missions over enemy targets.

The Germans told Landers and the two others who parachuted into German hands that five men in the crew had been killed. Landers knows three escaped leaving one unaccounted for. Little hope is held that the unaccounted for airman could have been Price and that he survived.

Big Bomber Explodes

After receiving five flak hits, the big bomber exploded at an altitude of about 24,000 feet and pieces of the ship plunged downward around the three parachuting airmen who were fired upon with rifles by Germans as they neared earth.

Landers received a broken leg, flak splinters in the hands and was badly burned when the ship exploded. It was that blast that flung him through the "skin" of the plane as he attempted to reach the pilot and co-pilot who were slumped over the controls. The bombardier officer escaped without a scratch but Sgt. Edward Murray, Charleston, S. C., was hit in the shoulder by flak.

Murray had been in the waist turret with Price and just before the ship received a direct hit just back of the bomb bay. Price and Murray had pointed out to each other three planes falling in flames. Murray leaped over to put on his own parachute when the ship was hit. No member of the crew saw Price after that.

The crew members received a Presidential citation for the mission on which the plane was lost.

Down Near Vienna

The ship was shot down about two or three miles from the edge of Vienna. Its target, a Vienna suburb, had been hit by the Liberator's bombs a few minutes before the big ship got into difficulty with a hit first on an engine, then near the bomb bay. Others followed in quick succession in the left wing and nose and the ship went into a spin.

Sergeant Landers and the two other survivors were taken prisoner. Landers had thrown away his gun as he parachuted to earth. He was hospitalized and was marked for repatriation when the Russians liberated the Austrian prison camp from which the Germans had marched all but 70 of the prisoners on May 9.

Trouble started early on the fateful mission in which 500 bombers had taken off. Strong air currents cut off Price's attack unit of 21 planes from the remainder of the force. Then more than 30 German fighters appeared but it was flak over the target that brought final disaster.

Five Decorations
Landers wears the Silver Star medal, the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal, Purple Heart and a Presidential Citation badge. He received good medical treatment from Viennese surgeons and returned to the states three weeks ago.

He and Price had been together from November 19, 1943, when their cadre was formed at Salt Lake City during training. They went overseas together January 30, 1944. Price's birthday anniversary, and they were assigned to the 15th Air Force in Italy. They had been hard hit on bombing missions and on their last flight only four of the original crew of 10 remained.

Sergeant Price's younger brother, Pvt. William E. Price, also is in the Air Force. Last week he was graduated from an airplane mechanics training course at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss. Now he is enroute to the west coast.

MAKE CAR TIRES AVAILABLE FOR SOME WORKERS

Passenger car owners using their automobiles for a bona fide change of residence for which they were issued special gasoline rations are eligible beginning July 16 for Grade I passenger tire purchase certificates, subject to quota and other restrictions the OPA announced Monday.

This extension of eligibility is particularly needed now that increasing numbers of persons are moving from one city to another, OPA explained. It will allow the following groups to apply for new tires if they have a tire failure while making a permanent change of residence:

1. War workers moving from one city to another as production shifts from one type of war goods to another and to civilian commodities.
2. Members of the armed forces moving to a new post.
3. Discharged war veterans returning home or moving to another city to accept a job.

New Restrictions
In another change, OPA prohibited dealers from obtaining certificates for mounting new tires on used 1942 passenger cars being held for sale. This action was taken because these cars were removed from rationing July 2 and now may be sold to persons who are not eligible for rationed tires.

Dealers will also be prohibited from obtaining new tires for the few new 1942 cars still held for sale. These cars are equipped with their original tires and, except for a few cases where tires were damaged in shipment or have otherwise deteriorated, do not need new tires.

SHOWERS OVER WEEK-END ARE WELCOME HERE

It was "raining dollar bills" over the week-end for Adams county farmers, fruit growers and truck gardeners whose lands have been acutely in need of rain for weeks.

The rains, which started Saturday night and mounted to nearly an inch here over the week-end, fell principally on Sunday, St. Swithins' Day, and now those who believe that ancient figure has an influence on twentieth century weather say it will rain for 40 days in accord with the St. Swithins' Day superstition.

St. Swithins was the English bishop of Winchester, who requested that he be buried near his church when he died. Although his request was granted, a new cathedral was erected to the new site. The legend says that St. Swithins became so enraged that he caused rain to fall for 40 days.

While the week-end showers delayed late wheat cutting, some haying and soaked shocked grain in many fields, it was regarded as a "life saver" for the corn crop and brightened many farmers' chances of harvesting good second crops of hay from clover fields. Tomato fields needed the rain too, farmers said.

The showers will hasten the maturing of sweet corn and give a needed boost to other truck crops. Fruitmen, too, welcomed the showers for the benefit of the apple and peach crops.

Says Borough Not To Blame For Delay

Gettysburg borough is not responsible for the delay in the surfacing of York street, Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said today explaining that the borough workmen have been closing the street openings made by the gas and water companies "as rapidly as the utility companies finish their line repairs."

The state highway department announced Saturday that the surfacing work cannot be done for at least six weeks because of the delay in filling the holes made by the gas and water companies. The openings are closed by the borough.

Mr. Winebrenner said that all of the openings on York street have been closed by the borough employees and that the barricades will be removed Thursday. The delay was chiefly due to the extended repairs undertaken by the gas company, he said.

Borough workmen Monday were busy installing the new relief storm sewer along the north side of the central part of the first block of Chambersburg street.
